

HOUSING SATISFACTION SURVEY, PHILLIPS COUNTY, CO

Survey and Data Collection

The County was determined to understand the character, quantity, and availability of housing in the local communities. They also desired to learn the satisfaction level of home owners and determine their potential to move or purchase new homes. CSU developed a work scope that would help the County with specific tasks to keep their data and mailing lists confidential. Work involved review of the questionnaire, mailing the survey forms to county residents. Upon receipt of the returned surveys staff tabulated the results and forwarded that back to the county for their analysis and use.
