

RIVERSIDE PARK, SALIDA, COLORADO

Landscape Architecture

The Town of Salida required graphic exhibits for their upcoming public meeting on this park design. They asked our program to layout the existing conditions, their architect's concept and to develop two other options that could open some discussion. The graphics spurred good discussion and helped the town continue the design process for this community resource.

Intern: Brent Cooper, Landscape Architect
 Proj. Mgr.: Mike Tupa, ASLA
 Project Timeline: Winter-Spring 2004

TOWN HALL - CITY CENTER, DAcono, COLORADO

Landscape Architecture - Planning

The Town of Dacono was growing out of their town hall offices. The community had a significant growth spurt on their hands and no place to house a new planning and zoning department. The TA program helped the town look at a number of alternative measures which would have expanded the existing town hall or would have completely moved the town functions to a new building, or cluster of buildings, elsewhere in town.

The desired option ended up being town hall which would become the focus of a new town center of commercial and residential development. A couple ideas for this new town center were presented and one was finalized for the council's use and aid in further discussions about the direction of this community.

Intern: Karen Kalavity, Landscape Architect
 Project Mgr: Mike Tupa, ASLA
 Project Timeline: Spring-Summer 2004